

Andrew Prince (Jeweller)

Andrew Prince has had a passion for jewellery since he was a child, perhaps due to swallowing one of his mothers pearl earrings at the age of three!

Joining the jewellery trade at 16 he soon started making and selling pieces. Andrew has been commissioned for celebrities that include Michael Jackson, Shirley Bassey and Penelope Cruz. He supplied the jewellery for the films 'The Young Victoria' and 'Mrs Henderson Presents' and in 2005 the Victoria & Albert museum showed his pieces to great acclaim accompanying the 'Tiaras past and Present' exhibition.

He believes "Jewellery should enhance not dominate the wearer."

www.andrewprince.co.uk